'And then when these self-same forces took it upon themselves to dig up everything that assumed mountains which were but mole hills, and we were debarred from answering them, then, indeed, did it seem that justice was held in the grasp of the Tammany tiger. But my husband has at least dulled it

SHE WANTED TO TAKE THE STAND.

You can imagine how awful it was not to be able to go on the stand and of the things I knew; but it was useless to go before a tribunal, the majority members of which were being paid over $40 a day to pass judgment on a case in which the only judge they recognized had already passed upon and decreed the official assassimation of the Governor.
"If my husband had accepted all of the inducements offered him by the Tammany crowd he would have been a rich man to-day. When they saw he would not do this, one after another turned against him, including John II. Delaney, Commissioner in the Department of Economy.

"You can imagine my feelings when 'Mat' Horgan became a Tammany spy and was appointed the Secretary of the Frawley Committee, which subsequently met and pried into all of my husband's affairs, aided by the traito Horgan, who had been my husband's constant companion during the Gubernatorial campaign. So it came that, one by one, the Tammany tools showed themselves in their true light.

"Thus if it comes to cass, as it surely will, that this Chief and his benchmen who have tried to dig a grave for my husband will eventually fall into it themselves, then our long, atrenuous fight will not have been in vain.

CALLS HUSBAND MARTYR TO CAUSE.

"If my husband has been a martyr to a cause so great as to overthrow one who held the State in the hollow of his hand, then indeed I am glad to be the wife of such a man, but at least we must admit that the Tammany backbone has been broken, and the people are seeing with a clearer vision the tactics of this organization that my husband was brave enough to dety.

"It will be recalled that Mr. Sulzer said in his inaugural address that he would be the Governor. He made good, and when the Boss snew that he could not be made to betray the people it was then that the conspiracy was hatched by the Tammany benchmen to depose him. "During the impeachment trial the methods they resorted to to get information as to not only the Governor's every trilling act, but my own, would have led one to believe that every semblance of manly honor where woman was concerned had fied and we were living in the dark And now they have dug up an idea, according to the newspapers, that we have $100,000 in a Canadian bank. Needless to say that this is a pure figment of imagination, and their efforts now seem to be directed toward putting a MCALL FAILS TO ANSWER "As to this, I want to say that it will take no little work on my husband's part to pay off his debts, which he could have easily done had he done the bidding of the Boss. In truth, to sum up the situation, in the Sulzer family exchaquer approximately there is about $25,000 to meet $75,000 worth of obliga-

"But we can adapt ourselves to circumstances. I am perfectly happy to live as humbly as necessary until my husband has again proven himself the worthy choice of the people in fighting corrupt practices that has been the rule with the Legislature.

"So that though the offer to go to the Assembly came as a great surprise and at first I was opposed to it, owing to the reasons stated, such tremendous forces were brought to hear on me to have him accept this as the first move toward vindication before the High Court of the People that I now am firmly convinced it is the first step toward that end."
